

Welcome

Welcome

We are excited to partner with you to help promote a more diverse workforce in the housing industry that keeps pace with the next generation of increasingly diverse homeowners and renters.

The Future Housing Leaders program is designed to fit into your existing recruitment strategies and internship programs or serve as a launchpad to help your organization build its own internship program.

Future Housing Leaders aims to support its employer partners and their interns in the Future Housing Leaders program by:

- Helping employers expand their networks and pipeline of entry-level talent with diverse backgrounds
- Building relationships between employer partners and peers in the industry through thought leadership opportunities like on-campus speaking events
- Providing participants in the Future Housing Leaders program with educational resources, like Harvard Manage Mentor and MBA Education, to supplement their on-the-job experience
- Facilitating networking opportunities for Future Housing Leaders participants and their peers that are interning at top housing industry companies across the country

About our Partnership

While the Future Housing Leaders program aims to promote and support its employer partners' efforts to foster and sustain a diverse applicant pipeline for internships, your company will make all decisions with respect to interviews and selection, consistent with the principles of equal employment opportunity and your company's business needs and selection criteria.

Roles & Responsibilities

Future Housing Leaders' employer partners have important roles to play throughout the program to ensure that participating students are set up for success. Please see the Future Housing Leaders Employer Partner Onboarding document, which provides an overview of roles and responsibilities at each stage: pre-recruitment, recruitment, internship, and post-internship.

We appreciate your participation, and we are thrilled to work with you on this important initiative. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Future Housing Leaders team at any time.
